PLEASE JOIN THE NATIVE AMERICAN CENTER FOR EXCELLENCE (NACE) for a Webinar Series: EDUCATION AND THE NATIVE AMERICAN STUDENT which will be presented by Dawn Mackety, PhD. Dr. Mackety is the Director of Research, Data and Policy at the National Indian Education Association.

Dropping out of high school is associated with numerous detrimental consequences, including substance abuse. This webinar series will explore the risk and protective factors associated with dropping out and tools designed to improve student achievement and prevent substance abuse. The webinars will explore school and community-based prevention and intervention programs for general population and at-risk students, programs designed specifically to encourage school completion among pregnant and parenting teens.
